Power Lift, HydroPeptide

"Peptides and antioxidants always get my thumbs-up. So this ultrarich moisturizer, which contains both along with shea butter, is like a dream come true. It smooths and firms my skin without leaving behind any greasy residue. Plus, it lifts signs of aging—as well as my spirits."

Daily Sunscreen Complex, Mark Lees Skin Care

"I'm not a big connoisseur of perfume or SPF—though I should be given my line of work. However, I was pleasantly surprised by this velvety, fragrance-free sunscreen. It's specifically formulated for dry skin, so it nourishes my face, and it also contains SPF-15 to shield me from springtime rays."

Ligne Myoxy-Caviar Timeless Eye Contour, Pevonia Botanica

"I'm pretty picky when it comes to eye creams; they're usually too light or too heavy. This one contains the extract of caviar, which gives it a luxurious quality and suits me just right. All I need now are some crackers and champagne."

Aerobic Infusion Serum, DermAware

"Raspberries are my favorite fruit. The mix of tart and sweet is the perfect accent to my breakfast—and my face! This plumping serum is infused with the antioxidant-rich berry and blends six peptides with hydrating spring water. Plus, the aroma preps my cells for a bright day ahead."

Omega 3 Derma Lift Eye Gel, Shira Esthetics

"I know by now the importance of omega-3s in my diet—and on my skin. This smooth under-eye gel goes on light yet packs a big punch. It calms irritation, reduces puffiness and puts a bit of sparkle back into my tired morning eyes. All that, and it's free from any fishy scent."

Lomasi Pomegranate Scrub, Young Nails

"In the spring, I love sporting pretty pink manicures. But before my hands are ready for polish, they need some serious smoothing and nurturing. This scrub handles both, gently exfoliating my dry skin with glycolic acid, and hydrating it with almond, apricot, avocado and pomegranate oils."

A.M. Sun Powder, Brushes by Karen

"Minerals are what finally dragged me out of my stubborn tomboy days and into the era of grown-up makeup. It's easy to stay there with the help of this velvety powder. The fine granules disguise my pores and imperfections, while zinc oxide gives me sun protection."

Exfoliating Body Scrub, Dermalogica

"When I shower, I don't want anything left behind—including oil or residue. Which is why I love this scrub; it goes on with a crisp, refreshing scent thanks to essential oils. But its crushed seeds, rice bran and papaya enzymes leave me bright, rosy and clean to the touch."

White Tea Anti-Aging Face Wash, Skin 2 Skin Care

"Fighting the signs of aging isn't typically my top priority in a cleanser, but I love this fragrant mixture. The recently reformulated wash contains the essential oils of white tea, jasmine and orange—as well as a number of certified organic ingredients—to nourish and protect my skin."
